

Make your own video game. In two days.

Hack Club Haven Tashkent | 14-15 November | Free | Ages 13-18

Hi! We are students, just like you.

Not teachers. Not a company. A team of Tashkent teenagers running a game jam in our city.

Play this.

This game was made by a teenager from Tashkent - as a beginner.

Want a turn?

What is Hack Club?

A nonprofit from the USA that helps teenagers build real things with code.
Run by teens, for teens.

100,000+ teenagers

1,500+ school clubs

Free always

What is Haven?

200+ cities. One weekend.

Teenagers around the world make video games on the same weekend. Tashkent is one of those cities - for the first time.

14-15 November

Ages 13-18

No experience needed

How the weekend works

1

Saturday morning

We all build a first game together, step by step.

2

Before lunch

Everyone publishes their game online.

3

Then

Make your own game - alone or with friends.

4

Sunday

Play everyone's games. Certificates.

What you take home

Your own game online, with a link to share

An international certificate

Hack Club merch for everyone who finishes a game

Free food both days

New friends who like the same things

"But..."

"I can't code."

Perfect. We learn together in the first hour.

"I don't know anyone."

Bring your friends. You'll be on one team.

"Is this for me?"

If you play games, draw, make music or are just curious: yes.

For your parents

Adults supervise the whole weekend

No overnight: everyone goes home
each evening

Parents sign a consent form

Hack Club has a written safety policy: hackclub.com/safeguarding-policy

Sign up now.

It takes one minute. Do it now, not later.

haven.hackclub.com/tashkent

Questions?

tashkent@haven.hackclub.com

Want to be the Haven ambassador at your school? Talk to us after class.

Two days. One game. See you there.